Southland Trouble Brewing

Two "union armies" are about to invade the South. Without venturing too far out on the limb of prophecy, it is possible to predict that the coming months and years will give employers below the Mason-Dixon line plenty of headaches.

It is not strictly a matter of union organization in an area in which workers have been slow to organize. Management probably would go along with federal labor legislation more willingly if it were only a question of dealing with one labor group and that the one which moves more closely to the American tradition.

But both the AFL and the CIO are out to organize the South. The CIO recently opened offices at Birmingham, Ala., and, with the $1,000,000 fund it hopes to raise, will go after members, particularly among the cotton textile workers. The AFL will fire the opening guns of its campaign at a meeting in Asheville, N. C., about the middle of the month. Regular AFL organizers in twelve Southern states will lay plans to enroll workers in textiles, chemicals, oil, rayon and the public services.

Unless the rival organizations can agree to work respective sides of the street—and it is likely that they will—there is trouble ahead in the form of the dockets of the National Labor Relations Board, of strikes and jurisdictional clashes and jamming of to handle the crops.

The Florida boys wanted assurance that the Department would make foreign labor contracts which would provide enough workers to come for a six month instead of a three month stay. They held that the customary exchange of crew in three months, cost the growers large sums to train, only to have them removed when the labor became profitable and experienced, then to have the same things to go through when the second new crew arrived. This double shift was a heavy loss to the operators, where with one shift, a profit could be realized. Something new is predicted will happen in the Florida Citrus season this year, and that is that crop gathering will start from two to four weeks earlier than usual, owing to the advanced staging of the new crop. While in the Glades area recently, Clarence Bitter made a survey of some of the farms and packing house projects and expressed the opinion that there was great excitement in the future in the quick freeze and running projects. That he knew no place in America like the Everglades for potential possibilities in agriculture.

LONG DISTANCE CALLS ARE STILL

INCREASING

The volume of Long Distance calls keeps right on growing. Between towns and cities only a few miles apart, folks are making one-fifth more calls to-day than during the peak of the wartime load.

As a result of this postwar rush of short-haul calls there is likely to be some delays on calls to nearby points until the necessary materials can be obtained and additional circuits provided to relieve congestion.

In the meantime, everything possible is being done to handle all calls promptly.

DORIS WELLS REVEALS WEDDING PLANS

The wedding of Miss Doris Wells to Major Lars Johnson will be performed at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wells, on Sunday, June 30, at 4:00 p. m. at Jackson Farms, Hendersonville, N. C.

The Rev. F. C. Smathers will read the service.

Miss Gloria Louise Wells, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor and Major John Horv of Boston, Mass., will serve as best man.

Invitations are not being sent but all friends are cordially invited to attend.

HORN-SCOTT NUPTIALS

One of the prettiest of June weddings was solemnized Sunday afternoon, June 16, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Scott at Eustis, Florida, when the marriage of the eldest daughter, Miss Virginia Rose Scott became the bride of William John Horn of Belle Glade. The Rev. M. H. Epperson of the First Baptist church read the impressive double ring service.

Preceding the nuptials, a religious service was given by Mrs. Esther Wigner Porter who sang "I Love Thee" and "Because" accompanied by Memory Martin, who also played the Mendelssohn Wedding March.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sisters, Miss Louise Scott, maid of honor, and Miss Marie Scott, bridesmaid. The best man was Floyd V. Scott, brother of the bride.

The bride was beautifully gowned in a pale dove gray tulle crepe cut in simple lines and enhanced by a delicate fluted pink frill edged with Valenciennes, reaching from the neck to hem. She wore a small tiara hat of pink flowers with a short veil with a double strand of pink pearls and matching accessories. Her hair was styled in waves of pink roses and carnations with long pink satin streamers. Her attendants wore pastel shades of ecru and white with small white colonial hats and white accessories and white shoulder corsages of carnations and tuberoses tied with white satin ribbons.

The groom and his best man and the bride's father wore the conventional gray with white boutonnieres.

A reception for close friends and relatives of the bride and groom was held following the ceremony. Refreshments were served buffet style from the large dining table overlaid with a lace cloth and rose streamers, the three tiered wedding cake forming the centerpiece. This was cut by the bride with the groom assisting.

They left immediately on a brief motor tour of the state and will be at home to their friends about July 1 at their home here in Belle Glade.

The bride was born in Eustis and was a graduate of the High School, class of '41 of that city. For the past year she has made her home in Belle Glade where she has been employed by the Florida Power and Light Co.

The groom has been a resident of Belle Glade for the past two years where he is employed in the Scarborough store. He is a member of the Pi Phi fraternity and local civic organizations.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Betty Sue Scott of Mount Dora and Mrs. Nellie Van Bynum Horn, mother of the groom, of Belle Glade.

MUTCHLER-HARDY

The wedding of Miss Marian Alice Mutchler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Mutchler of South Bay, and Leland D. Hardy, son of Mrs. Walter Boyd of Orlando and L. L. Hardy of South Bay, was solemnized at the First Baptist church of South Bay Sunday, June 23 at 3:00 p. m.

The Rev. William Oswald, pastor performed the ceremony under an arch of ferns intertwined with crimson sepias myrtle and flanked with jars of gladioli and asters.

Mrs. J. W. Rashley played "Traumer" and "Little Romance" as a prelude to the ceremony and Miss Ruth Barstow sang "Because".

The bride's party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal March and the ceremony proceeded to the accompaniment of

New Phones In South Bay Dependent On Additional Cable And Exchanges

The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company has contracted the Farren tree surgeons of Jacksonville to clear a right of way for the telephone line from West Palm Beach to Clewiston adjacent to State Road 25.

Howard Holland and a crew of five men are at work clearing a 30-foot right of way of grass vegetation and trimming the trees in this 30-foot strip. At Belle Glade the right of way will be narrowed to 10 feet and continue at 10 feet to Clewiston.

The Telephone Company reports that the proposed exchange for South Bay is not scheduled before January 1st, and no new phones will be available for South Bay until additional exchange facilities and cable are available.

Manager Bowen in West Palm Beach reports that his company is bending every effort to give the fast growing Glades the phone service they should have but that new phones are entirely dependent on his ability to get cable and exchange facilities.

Buys Timber Tract

and now located at Delray, has purchased from the Joe Peebles, Sr., estate in Glades county, a large saw mill and a tract of timber which will produce a million feet of lumber. Peet plans to operate the mill and clear most of the land of its valuable timber.

The boys started out early on Tuesday morning to shoot hawks and in going out the door the 22 calibre gun carried by Leeland caught on the door and was discharged. The hollow pointed slug parted into four parts resulting in the four penetrations. An operation is planned to secure the backbone pellets in the hopes of relieving the paralysis.

Three Way Wreck

A three way car wreck occurred on Route 26 last Saturday afternoon when a car driven by John McLaughlin of Oakland Park, blew a tire and caused the car to get out of control.

This car sideswiped a car driven by W. D. Fowler, of Winter Haven, and then ran head on into the car of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis.

In addition to the damage to the cars, Mrs. Edward Lewis sustained a back injury, a son stated he must have fallen asleep. Police towed the car into Saturday afternoon when he was asserted that Cook was an old falcon to the Broward station and that his accident was due to too fast Nelson of Clewiston. Highway driving and not from sleep.

Patrolman J. T. Cook was at the scene for an investigation and declared the accident an unavoidable one.

Willard Cook, colored, smashed up his car near Vinegar Bend Saturday afternoon when he was asserted that Cook was an old falcon to the Broward station and that his accident was due to too fast Nelson of Clewiston. Highway driving and not from sleep.

Another Sentimental Dog Story

A few weeks ago, I had a sentimental story about a dog, and I have received many complimentary letters concerning it, so from a sentiment standpoint am again taking space in the Herald, to present another like story, taken from my files of correspondence sent to my late wife while she was living in Miami, back in 1931, long before she ever struck the soil of the Everglades. I hope you will like this little narrative.

PATSY, MY DOG IS DEAD

Dear Gertrude:—How I miss Patsy. She came up here by your good graces. She was then a puppy—a cute little fine bred puppy ratter. She cost you money. You gave her to me. How good and thoughtful of you. Here Patsy grew to maturity. On this Rancho Omar Khayyam in these pioneer days, while here alone, Patsy was my sentinel. On the hot nights I sometimes slept naked against the screen, the window up, in full view of the sky and the moon—a "Miami Moon". I felt safe 'cause Patsy was on guard usually right under the house at my window.

Patsy, my dog, and I were chums. My trials were her trials. Oft we had little to eat. She shared the fate with a kindly look. When I bought her a big meaty bone from the meat shop, she'd dance the jig. Bless her little heart. How she did on rat hunt. She'd bark and look around for me to help her dig the rat out. Together we oftentimes enjoyed the chase.

Thursday Patsy had chicken, a big fat hen that got rheumatism. "Friday"—the colored man and I killed the chicken, and fed it to Patsy and "Micky Mike", Patsy's little son, and the Cats. Later in the day, "Friday" and I washed Patsy and Micky Mike with dog flea soap. A few days later there was a little shortage of dog food. Patsy was sitting in the kitchen looking at me as in and out I went slumming the kitchen door late the afternoon. Patsy! I called, would you like to have a good brown greasy corn bread pan cake. She looked a yes. I gave her one. She enjoyed it. First cats that day. Then I went my way. Patsy went her's unknown to me to a neighbors house quite against the rules. Why did she go there. Did she go for a bone? Did she do so because her master failed to feed her enough that day? It hurts. Patsy never came back. I say Patsy and I were pals. Bless her little heart. Patsy harks no more on the old homestead. Patsy got killed on the railroad track back of the house. The train cut her head off. Her body rolled one place. Her head another place. Her body was not bruised, neither was her head. I rushed up on the embankment to the railroad track, shovel in hand THERE to bury Patsy. I began to dig a hole, a grave to roll Patsy in. Suddenly came with blinding tears, my cry aloud "Patsy shall not be buried here". So I carried her body in hand and her head in another hand back to the land where we together played. There beside the path, near the house, under which Patsy often lay on guard while I slept, a little grave, a little cross, a little rose tree to be. Thus lies the earthly form of Patsy, my faithful little dog friend and pal. There at a spot, the grave, like where on different occasions, untold numbers have stood, I too stand, with tears running their natural course, calling "Patsy-Patsy". There was, there is no answer, Patsy comes running to me no more. Oh SAVANTS!

This I write to you, my dear, in remembrance of Patsy.

Lovingly,
Omar Khayyam (G. A. Hubbell)

A New Booklet On DDT Facts And Fiction

has just been published from the pen of C. F. Ladeberg, manager of the Insecticide Division of the Kilgore Seed Company, which indeed is a most timely and informational treatise which should be in the hands of every progressive farmer.

To the end that this is possible the Kilgore's have supplied their stores at Belle Glade and Pahokee with a limited number of these booklets, which are free upon application. They are booklets that should be preserved for the farmer's library, as it will be a work often sought for the latest and best information on DDT and its companion insecticides, for it contains the formula and manner of use of all the combinations possible of this important new WONDER insecticide, along with its chemical history and adapted uses.

In Our Cases We Have Queer, Strange Forms

In one case you will see a collection of edible forms of different sizes, colors and contours. They have a head, fins and a tail, smooth skins, scales and some are naked—they are known as FISH. Yes sir, they are both the fresh and salt water type, good on any one's table.

In another case there are forms which have heads, necks, wings, tail and were formerly bedecked with feathers. They are known as POULTRY BIRDS, possible CHICKEN, DUCK or TURKEY—Anyway people purchase them and come back for more for they find them delicious.

In baskets we have a collection of sphere like forms, they have an outside shell and inside there are contents of white and yellow, which when fried, shirred or boiled make good eating—they are called EGGS. They come from clean, sanitary chicken farms and have been well fed and fat.

Whether you want Fish, Poultry or Eggs we have them.

OBSERVATIONS
make a strong attempt and bid to get a million dollars out of the Federal fund of 19 millions that it has amassed for stocking streams and game preserves. The same sum will be appropriated by the state to get the matched funds from the Government.

The City has some mighty high trees along the canal bank back of the city hall and back of the Fears store on Avenue A, which in high storm might cause considerable damage. City Fathers are considering a plan whereby they can be trimmed and cut back as a safety precaution.

The pitted condition of the highway and especially the rough turns on Main street from the upper light to the south city limits have become such that the State Highway Department should come in and do considerable repair work. Such an invitation will be extended to the Department by the City Commission.

Clewiston, our sister city to the west, is having growing pains and desire for some public improvements. Its condition is similar to that of Belle Glade in that it needs sanitary sewer and a waste disposal plant. The city officials have entered into a contract with a Jacksonville engineering firm to make a survey and plans and specifications for such a system. Clarence Bittling, formerly of the U. S. Sugar Corporation, through Bittling Co., Inc., has made an offer to purchase the electric light and power distribution system at a price that would clear the city of bonded indebtedness and still have a neat sum left over for the proposed sewerage project.

The mountains of Georgia are popular vacation spots for summer visitors from the Glades section, but it now looks as if the foolish ban of the state against Floridians on account of the polio scare has caused many of the travelers to seek out other resorts for their rest period.

sing along the street I saw trucks carrying tags from Portland, Me., one from Michigan, one from Colorado and one from Oregon. Wonder what these men could be seeking from the Glades this time of the year when most all our crops have been exhausted.

Over in the middle of the distance between Kissimmee and Davenport is located the christian settlement known as Intercession City. From a dilapidated forsaken boom time place, in some seven years the religious management has converted and brought the place back to a most beautiful and interesting place and missionary education center.

Of recent months, the management brought the original hotel at near by Davenport, which it is now using as a hospice for the aged charges of the corporation. Here a most pleasant home is maintained for this group.

Back in the early portion of 1920, when Lee Wicker was promoting and selling groves over in that locality, he was one of the company which created this old hotel building when something grand for that pioneer section of central Florida. To this hotel Wicker brought thousands of selected prospects from all over the states on inspection and entertainment trips to Davenport and few went home who did not make purchases. These groves are now among the finest in the entire citrus belt of Florida. Wicker is well known in the Glades section as an insurance salesman.

Who pays the expense of a broken glass window in a mercantile store when broken by the tumbling of an intoxicated man? The man who sold the liquor, the man who imbued it and got drunk or the merchant? That is one problem which the local police department is negotiating upon for such an incident occurred in the city one night last week.

Westgate Leaves State Work For Private Enterprise

P. J. Westgate, formerly stationed at the Experiment Station here, and later for several years at the Dade county station, has recently resigned from the state agricultural service and is now state agent for the Shell Chemical Company of San Francisco, which has its Florida headquarters at Orlando.

Mr. Westgate is promoting the company's so called D-D soil and worm exterminator program, relating to soil nematodes and the destruction of wire worm pests.

A. J. Garon has had the company's equipment in the Belle Glade area the past few days and has treated lands on the Fritz Stein, E. H. Borchardt and the Wedgwood farms and is contracted to do additional work on other farms and seed bed work.

Making Repairs

Since the city hall was built some seven years ago it has required little repairs. But now, it is showing some wear and tear and the City Commission has authorized Inspector Roos to make necessary roof repairs and leaks about the council room windows.

Inspector Roos, who is supervising both the new city garage and the city jail annex, has then both well into completion. The Commission has awarded a contract to the Sinclair Oil Co. to furnish grease, oils and gasoline for the new city garage for one year at posted prices. The company is to install new tanks and pumps at the garage station.

Issues Commissions

To complete the five member board of Public Instruction of Palm Beach county, Governor Millard Caldwell on Saturday named George A. Taylor, Sr., of Belle Glade to represent District No. 4 and Ralph Kettler of West Palm Beach to represent district No. 5, they having been made the nominees for

Agency Did Good Work

County Agent "Red" Mountr in a recent statement told that the Glades potato farmer has saved 339 cars of potatoes by selling their crop under the U. S. potato program. These spuds were sold at the field and shipped in the bulk without processing.

He also complimented the Belle Glade Employment office for the successful program it had used to move the migrant workers from the local field to points north.
